HALLINGER TO HANG FEB. 10.

The Negro Murderer Resentenced To-Day by Judge Knapp.

Lawyer Peshall Will Try Once More to Save Hallinger's Life.

Edward W. Hallinger, the negro murderer, was today resentenced by Judge Knapp, in the Hudson County Court. Lawyer Charles Peshall, who has heretofore defended Hallinger, was not present. His Major Gilbert W. Collins, who had been appointed by the Court to act for Hallinger, was there.

The Court-room was crowded with people. At 10:30 o'clock Hallinger came into the Court-room in charge of Constable Boland. Hallinger wore a neat suit of black, and looked very much depressed. At 10:35 o'clock Judge Knapp ordered Hallinger arraigned.

Hallinger stood up, fixing his eyes on Judge Knapp's face. The Judge said: "Hallinger, you were indicted by the Grand Jury for the crime of murder in the first degree. You are charged with the life of your wife. You entered the plea of guilty."

"The Court decided that the degree was to be of the first degree. Sentence was pronounced upon you, to be executed June 30 last. The execution failed to take place. It has become the duty of the Court to again pronounce sentence against you. Have you anything to say?"

Hallinger interrupted by replying in a loud voice, "Nothing."

Judge Knapp continued: "The sentence of this Court is that you be taken hence to the Hudson County Jail, to remain in close confinement until further order of the Court. On February 10, 1892, on which day, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M., you will be taken by the Sheriff of Hudson County to the place of execution, and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead. May you have mercy upon your soul. You may now retire."

Hallinger drew a long sigh when Judge Knapp finished his remarks, but said nothing. He was taken back in a very dejected condition to the Hudson County Jail by constable Boland.

Hallinger murdered Mary Peterson, the mother of his two children, last Easter Sunday morning. He broke into her room, where she was in bed with her children. He used a hatchet, and chopped the bones of her head, and a shapless mass, notwithstanding her pitiful pleading for mercy.

He had not lived with her for some time, and professed to be jealous of her.

After murdering the woman in this brutal fashion, Hallinger became repentant and confessed his crime. He pleaded guilty, and although the Court objected to receiving this plea, he was released with a promise that he would be taken to the State Prison at New Jersey, where he was tried with a jury.

Lawyer Peshall was seen at Taylor's Hotel. After the resentencing of Hallinger Mr. Peshall said:

"I was awaiting for Hallinger to be resentenced before I took any further move in this case. Now I will move before the Supreme Court at Washington for Hallinger's absolute discharge either to-morrow or next day."

"I will ask for the discharge of Hallinger on the ground that the judgment against Hallinger was irregular and illegal, because the records show that Hallinger was condemned without a jury. Also on the ground that Hallinger could not be resentenced after the expiration of the term for which he was first sentenced."

"There is no statute in New Jersey to authorize the Court to resentence after the term of the first sentence has expired."

Frank Tompkins, George North and John Bigley, who were arrested by detectives of the West Third-street station for robbing the Newport Plaza, 200 West Third-street, and the house of Mrs. Fitzgerald, at 243 West Forty-fourth street, the Marine Hotel and many other places, were arraigned and held for trial at Jefferson Market Court this morning.

Two conspirators were made against them by Beatie Agnes Duffy, maid in the Newport Plaza, from whom they stole $25 worth of jewelry and $125 in money, and Margaret Murphy, maid for Mrs. Fitzgerald, who lost a silver set valued at $40 and a chair worth $25.

The men were employed as day-laborers, and while doing work in the houses named took advantage of the opportunity to steal.

BLOODY BATTLE AT SANTOS.

Many Revolutionists Shot Down by Brazilian Soldiers.

Thirty Reported Killed and Nearly a Hundred Wounded.

The United States and Brazil mail steamship Segura arrived at quarantine this morning from Brazilian ports and with a terrible story of wholesale deaths from yellow fever and bullets at Santos, Brazil.

An epidemic of yellow fever with a terrible mortality has been raging at Santos for some time. On Dec. 22 one of the crew of the Segura, August Clements, aged twenty-eight, a native of Germany, died. It is said, of pneumonia and was buried at sea.

When the vessel arrived at quarantine this morning she was detained by orders of the Health Officer, as it was feared she might have some germs of the source on board. She will be thoroughly fumigated and cleaned and will probably come up to the city this afternoon.

The Segura brings the first information of a bloody engagement between the government soldiers and the people of Santos in which a number of lives are lost.

On Dec. 17 the government sent a military Governor to Santos to replace the former Governor. The people opposed this action as a violation of the constitution. Public meetings were held, the conduct of the Governor denounced and the citizens began to organize themselves into armed bands.

When the military Governor, surrounded by troops, appeared in the streets, the revolutionary feeling of the people broke loose and the storm was soon raging.

The troops charged upon the people and the gathering of citizens and were pelted with stones and sticks. The soldiers were then ordered to fire on the people.

They did so, and a dozen of the citizens fell dead and a number wounded. The revolutionists gave way, but quickly gathered again and made an obstinate resistance.

The troops charged upon the people and drove them from street to street. Many of the revolutionists fell pelted with bayonets and bullets. A pitched battle took place between the troops and the citizens on one of the squares, and the din of musketry and the cries of the wounded filled the air. The citizens fought bravely, but had to give way to the soldiers.

When the tumult finally subsided it was found that there were thirty revolutionists dead and from seventy-five to one hundred wounded.

Santos is 120 miles south of Rio Janeiro, on the inner side of the island of the same name, near the coast.

The steamship Friedberg, which arrived from Rio de Janeiro this morning, is also detained at quarantine. Two of her crew, W. T. Hines, a deck boy, sixteen years old, and Oswald Trichel, a boatman, aged twenty-nine, died of yellow fever during the passage and were buried at sea.

There are others suffering with the disease, but the ship will be thoroughly fumigated and disinfected before she will be permitted to enter port.

BOTH ENGINEERS KILLED.

In a Collision on the New York, Ontario and Western.

Utica, Jan. 6.—At about 3 o'clock this morning a freight and accommodation train on the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad at Snyder, Chenango county, was run into by a light engine going in the opposite direction.

The engineers of both locomotives were killed. Fireman Albert Cady, of Norwich, also was killed.

The engineer of the freight train was Fred Young and he lived in Utica. The engineer of the light engine was Martin Sheehy, of Coxsack.

There are others killed and many others injured, and were blown into twisted scrap heaps of iron.

NEW ALDERMANIC DISTRICTS.

Shall the Number Keep Pace with a Reapportionment.

Politicians' Reasons for an Amendment to the Consolidation Act.

With an enumeration of the inhabitants of the State practically provided for and a reapportionment of Assembly districts which will increase the number in New York City by half a dozen or more, it is a question whether or not the number of Aldermanic districts and Aldermen will be increased in proportion.

It has been suggested, as the Assembly and Aldermanic districts are identical except in the case of the Annexed District, where the Aldermen are elected by wards, that the reapportionment will necessarily and of itself increase the number of Aldermen.

Good lawyers, though, say that this is not so, that the Aldermanic districts are declared and defined by the consolidation act to be the same as the Assembly districts as they existed at the time of the passage of the act and the Twenty-third Amendment, and that the number of Aldermen will be increased in proportion.

TICKERS' IRREGULAR TICKS.

No Settlement Reached of the War for Stock Quotations.

The "ticker" war is on again, but the outlook this morning was disheartening to the gold and stock telegraph company, whose cable was cut out of the stock exchange immediately after the dissolution of the temporary truce against the Exchange by Judge Hise.

Secretary Ely said this morning that the Gold and Stock people had made no overtures. He was supposed to be in the city, but he had not yet received the official quotations not making a complete day for the Exchange for the quotations.

The ticker company was obtaining the quotations this morning, but they sent them out greatly behind time and skipped many prices, to the intense dissatisfaction of their patrons.

Mr. Green, the President, was out of town. General Manager Eckert, of the Gold and Stock Company, was too busy to be seen.

At the office of Dillon & Swayne, attorneys for the company, it was said that the matter had now resolved itself into a business question and not a legal one.

ON IMMIGRATION VIA CANADA.

What Agent Goff Says This Government May Do.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Jan. 6.—Charles J. Goff, United States Special Agent in Canada for the detection of all evaders of the Alien Contract Labor law, in an interview with the immigration question, said today:

"If your Ottawa Government will not make an arrangement with the United States Government respecting this immigration question, then the Department at Washington is prepared to erect immigration sheds at all points in the United States at which immigrants are to be landed, to make all immigrants who are now passing through your country to the United States right back again to Canada."

"I tell you that that is what the Department is prepared to do. They would not there be a howl through your Dominion?"

GALLIVAN'S FALSE WITNESS.
